

Time to Save!

The IAM Collective Bargaining Agreement with Lockheed Martin Expires next April, so it's important to Start getting ready NOW!

These negotiations promise to be tough, as Lockheed Martin has a history of putting takeaways on the negotiating table. Lockheed will fight hard going after our healthcare plans, by peddling their high deductible health plan. Lockheed will also be going after our precious time off, our weekends, by pushing for mandatory overtime. The weekends we all currently enjoy thanks to those that fought hard in the past to bring us the 40-hour work week!

It is ESSENTIAL that we stop company takeaways, and it is ESSENTIAL that we negotiate an agreement that ESSENTIAL workers deserve. To accomplish our goals, it is ESSENTIAL that we all be prepared financially to take whatever action is necessary, for as long as necessary to secure a better living for our families. Our family's financial wellbeing has been under attack for far too long.
